JAMES DE LANCEY,
JAMES RIVINGTON,
WILLIAM BRUCE.

LONDON, Feburay 4.

IT is aſſerted that Colonel Keith, the Britiſh Miniſter at the Daniſh Court, has ſhewn the greateſt ſpirit and good conduct during the late revolution.——It ſeems the Senate in the firſt tranſports of their fury, had given orders for putting the Queen to immediate death; they had (without hearing her defence, and without any form of trial) unanimouſly declared her guilty of adultery and of poiſoning her huſband;—Upon which Mr. Keith inſtantly repaired to the Senate Houſe, and ſolemnly proteſted againſt any act of violence being offered to the Queen; he in the ſtrongeſt terms urged her innocence and the improbability of the accuſations againſt her, and concluded with denouncing the vengeance of the Britiſh Nation, and the terrors of an Engliſh fleet againſt the Senate and people of Denmark, if any act of violence and injuſtice was committed on a daughter of Britain, and the ſiſter of the King his Sovereign.

The Queen of Denmark is actually confined at Elſineur; the Queen Dowager has aſſumed the reins of Government, and the Daniſh guards are reſtored to their rank. This happened on the 17th of January.

It is ſaid that the Queen of Denmark has demanded to be ſent home to England, and it is expected it will be complied with.

Feb. 6. Yeſterday arrived a mail from Holland, by which we have the following further particulars of the late revolution at Denmark, dated Copenhagen, January 18.

"The night between the 16th and 17th a revolution took place in this city, which has been fatal to the liberty of many persons in the court, a masqued ball being appointed, of which Col. Koller had the guard, the occasion was favourable for its execution; Count de Struensee, and his brother, Count de Brand, Gen. Gahler, and his Lady, Gen. Gude, Col. Falkenschiold, Lieut. Col. Hasselberg, the Sieur Berger, the Court Physician, Rear-Admiral Hensen, and the Sieur Arboe, have been arrested, and shut up in the citadel. The Sieur Bulow, Esquire to the King, with his Lady, the Countess de Holst, Madam Fabricious, M. Wildebrand, Counsellor of State, Messirs. Zoega and Panin, Secretaries to the Cabinet, are confined in their own houses. The Queen has likewise been arrested and conducted to Kronenburg.

"Count Ramzaw-wan Ashberg, Col. Koller, and Gen. Eichsted, who had been charged to execute the orders of the King for this night, have been recompensed as follows; the first has been appointed Gen. of horse, and Knight of the order of the Elephant; the second General of Infantry, and Governor of this city; and the other Lieut. General, and Knight of the Order of Danebrog; and every Officer who was on guard this night has been raised a degree higher. It is asserted, that the King knew nothing of the affair a quarter of an hour before signing the orders for the imprisonment of the abovementioned persons.

"His Majesty left the ball-room at midnight where he had danced and played at quadrille with General Gahler, Madame de Gahler, and Count de Struensee, Counsellor of justice. At four in the morning, Prince Frederic (instructed by order of the Queen Dowager his mother, who had planned this revolution, and had taken every possible precaution for its success, being assured of the fidelity of Gen. Eichsted and Count Rantzau whom she had charged to gain over Colonel Koller, and the Officers of his regiment) entered with the Queen Dowager, his Majesty's Chamber.

"After having ordered his valet to awake his Majesty, they informed him, that the Queen and Count Struensee were actually drawing up an Act of Renunciation, which they intended to oblige him to sign; to prevent which they told his Majesty, the only method he could pursue, would be to sign an order to arrest the Queen and her partizans, a list of whose names they laid before him, drawn up by M. Guldberg Counsellor of State. Had the King refused, the Queen Dowager and Prince Frederick her son, had taken the resolution to have forced him to sign it. Count de Struensee was seized by Colonel Koller, the Queen soon learned her fate in a billet which was delivered to her, and which was addressed by Count Rantzau, who told her it would be better for her to obey the King's orders; and she was immediately conducted to Kronenbourg, in a coach, escorted by thirty dragoons. Immediately after the rest were seized.

"Prince Frederick is regarded at present as Prime Minister, and the Queen Dowager holds the reigns of government.

"A report having been circulated that some accident had happened to the King, his Majesty, attended by the Queen Dowager and Prince Frederick, shewed himself at the window. At noon the King, attended by the Hereditary Prince, went in a coach through the principal streets, amidst the acclamations of the people; in the afternoon the King held a Court, and all the city was illuminated.

"During the revolution the people having pillaged above sixty houses, a Royal Ordinance was published to put a stop to such disorders."

It is generally thought the late extraordinary transactions at Copenhagen will be the subject of consideration in an august Assembly immediately upon the return of the couriers.

A private letter received on Sunday from Holland says, that the States General have come to a resolution of augmenting the land forces at the Hague to 100 battalions and 80 squadrons.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 24.

THE Grand Signor has not only consented to open his coffers in order to furnish the necessary preparations for a fourth campaign, but has resolved to convert into specie all the gold that is in his Seraglio, and among other things, the grand golden cistern, which was formerly used by the Grecian patriarchs for the administration of baptism.

Copenhagen, Jan. 21. His majesty has committed the prince royal, his son, to the care of the queen dowager Julia Maria, and has appointed the lady of marsha Numsen to be his governess.

Constantinople, Jan. 3 The last letters from the army of the Grand Vizir have brought more bad news. It seems the Russians, to the number of 18 000 men, have attacked and entirely defeated, near Silistria, a corps of 40 000 Turks, commanded by the Grand Vizir Moegzoen Zade and three Pachas. And it is said likewise that some Russian ships have entered the port of Bodroen, and burnt several vessels which were upon the stocks there.

Copenhagen, Jan. 28. The diversions of the carnival go on here in the same manner as if there had not been any revolution. The king dines commonly at two o'clock with the queen-mother Julia Maria, the hereditary prince Frederick, and some foreign ministers with their ladies.

Extract of a Letter from Mittau, Jan. 19.

"I have this instant received by a courier passing to Petersburgh the agreeable news from Dantzick, that the resident minister from the king of Poland, chamberlain Uershewsky, has received information from his court, that the Russian ambassador had declared to the king his master, by order of his court, that a general amnesty with the Porte is just agreed on: so that peace is not so far distant as we had imagined.

"The said letter from Dantzick is dated the 13th instant."

LONDON.

St. James's, Feb. 15. By his majesty's ship Florida, arrived at Spithead, a letter has been received from captain Burr, of his majesty's sloop the Hound, dated at Port Egmont in Falkland's Island, the 10th of November last, giving an account that, in the preceding month, two Spanish vessels had arrived there with such artillery, stores &c. which could not be restored to Captain Stott at the surrender of the Island; and that a Spanish Commissary, appointed for that purpose, had delivered them to Captain Burr with the greatest punctuality and exactness.

Feb. 17. They write from Holland, that the French King has absolutely been refused a loan in the Dutch funds.—If this is true, French credit is at a very low ebb.

We learn by our letters of the 17th of December, from Constantinople, that Signor di Ludolph, Envoy from his Neapolitan Majesty to the Ottoman Port, as he was going to make a visit to the Prussian Minister there, was attacked and robbed in the public streets. By the same channel we are informed that several Russian frigates have been lately seen in the Euxine or Black Sea, which have even fired upon some Turkish ships there, and which latter had, with great difficulty, made their escape from the former. This event having been authentically ascertained, and duly notified to the Marine department in Constantinople, six xebeques and four gallies, were immediately ordered out on the cruise in the Black Sea, and particularly at the mouth of it, for the safety of the castles called the CAVAX. And in a postscript to this letter we have advice that Ali Bey had taken by storm the city of Scidia, otherwise Sidon, in Syria, on the 29th of October, which he intends to make the capital seat of his government in all Syria, to which he invites all the Jews from every quarter of the globe to come and settle, promising them not only to have the free exercise of their religion, but also full liberty of trading, and even admission into all the departments of government, as natural members of the same.—At Gaza, Damascus, and Aleppo, Ali Bey has an army of 60,000 men.

His Majesty having been informed how injurious a mourning of four months continuance would be to many of his subjects, we hear, has graciously declared, that the present mourning shall be limited to two months

The Princess of Brunswick is preparing to return home. In all probability she will never visit this country again. Her situation is truly pitiable. She is unhappy at home; and, if possible, has been made more so here. Upon her coming over, she was obliged to get apartments at a private house in Pall-Mall. None were allotted her in the palace. She asked (the only favour perhaps she ever asked) to be chief mourner to her mother. She was refused.

We hear that his Majesty, on retiring from Carlton-house last Saturday morning, carried a casket of jewels with him in his sedan chair which are valued at two hundred thousand pounds.

St. James's Feb. 18. Yesterday evening, between six and seven, her Royal and Serene Highness the Hereditary Princess of Brunswick set out for Dover, in order to embark for Calais, on her return to Brunswick.

Feb. 18. A letter from M. Adair, Surgeon General, which arrived from Naples on Saturday, gives a very flattering account of the state of his Royal Highness the Duke of Glocester's health. The stony concretions which he threw up from the lungs have ceased to appear, and his pulse was firmer, and less intermitting, when the post came, away, than it has been since the arrival of Dr. Jebb and Mr. Adair.

The King of Naples behaves with uncommon politeness to his Royal Visitor, and politely insisted upon the above two medical Gentlemen receiving accomodation in some very magnificent apartment in his palace.

The Funeral of her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales was very ill conducted, on Saturday night; the mob were so numerous and insolent, that great part of the black cloth that covered the sides of the platform was torn off before the procession was half over, and the soldiers, instead of seizing or keeping off the offenders, only seemed desirous of sharing in the spoils. The ceremonial was literally darkness visible, which arose from every tenth soldier only having a lighted flambeau. The Chapel was as gloomy as the Abbey; and when the body was carried to the Vault, the bearers were greatly distressed for want of lights. Many Ladies had the whole skirts of their gowns cut off, by a set of ruffians who got into the Abbey, and the pickpockets were so audacious that they rescued several of their companions who were taken into custody, from the soldiers, and carried them off in triumph.

The character of the late Princess Dowager shines with new lustre every day, and some of her greatest opponents have declared themselves since her death, astonished at the uncommon acts of benevolence her Highness conferred, in the most private manner, upon the unfortunate and deserving.

Politicians seem to think, that Berlin is now the place from whence all those evils which involve the north have risen. They talk of an intercourse between France, Spain, Sweden, and Berlin. We will not pretend to authenticate the truth of this conjecture, but we own ourselves extremely pleased at the appointment of a Minister at the Court of Berlin, as we shall now have a better channel of intelligence than through our Ambassador at the Hague.

Feb. 19 It is confidently reported, that Lord North has absolutely refused to involve the nation in a war on account of the late revolution in Denmark.

The Princess of Brunswick dined with their Majesties on Monday, after which she took her leave of the Royal Family, and at half past six set out for Germany. She was to lie that night at the seat of the Earl of Holdernesse, which is about half way between this and Dover, and was expected to be at the last mentioned place by nine o'clock yesterday morning.

All the chaplains who attended the funeral of her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales on Saturday evening, had orders to provide themselves with gloves and scarfs, which was actually done at their own expence. And we further hear (so universal was the œconomical plan upon this occasion) that not a glass of wine was to be had.

We hear, that the terms offered the D—ss of C———d, to renounce her public title are, ten thousand pounds a year Jointure; the last being the same sum settled on the Countess of Waldegrave; both which have been peremptorily refused.

BOSTON, April 16.

Extract of a Letter from London, by the last Vessel, dated from Palace Yard, March 1772.

"I have now the pleasure of informing you, that the remaining act, imposing a duty on tea, will be repealed, having had the last reading in the house, and is ordered to be engrossed. The Eyes of the ministry are at length open; they acknowledge they have been greatly deceived in American affairs, and are determined this session of parliament fully to redress every American grievance, and break up your board of commissioners."

NEWPORT, March 9.

On Wednesday the 26th ult. a very high mill-dam, in So. Kingstown, was carried away by a great flood of water, together with a small house near it, in which were a negro woman and a child who were both drowned.

Last Saturday, at the superior court here, came on the trial of Conrad Flack, for the murder of his wife on Thursday night the 21 of Nov. last: It appeared that a quarrel happening between them, she gave him much abusive language, struck him, and threw a plate at his head; on which he threw a pair of tongs at her, which entering her temple, she fell to the ground speechless, and remain'd so till Sunday morning the 24th when she expired. As soon as Flack saw she was hurt, he endeavoured to recover her, drew out the point of the tongs, bound up the wound and called in a Doctor to whom he pretended she had hurt her self by falling against the tongs; finding the Doctor apprehended the wound to be mortal, as soon as he was gone, Flack fearing to be brought into trouble, perstuaded his apprentice Abiathar Wilson, the only witness to the fact, to go off, offering him his indentures, and money to bear his expences. Wilson accepted the offer, and went on board one of the Providence packet boats, but before she sailed, was apprehended by the sheriff, and together with Flack (who had prevaricated on his examination,) committed to ghal. On the trial it appeared so clearly to the jury that there was no premeditated design of Murder, that without leaving their seats, they brought in their verdict Manslaughter.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.

Tuesday night, the 31st ult. a fine Bermuda brig (with 220 hogsheads of melasses on board) called the Lucre, Capt. Seymour, from Surinam for this port, ran ashore on a shoal, called the Hen and Chickens, which she beat over, and soon after sunk so suddenly, that it was with the greatest difficulty the people saved their lives, the boat floated off the deck before they had all got in.

New-York, 22 April.

To the Printer,

SEVERAL of my neighbours as well as myself, desire it may be noted, that the law of this city for inspection of fire-wood, seems to be of no other use, than to levy a tax on that necessary article, purely for the benefit of the nominal inspectors, who seldom perform any actual service for it, if the carmen are to be believed; for many of them have declared to me and others, that the inspectors do not attend to measure and see the wood loaded, tho' they are constant in making their demand, for the service which they do not perform.

NEW-YORK, APRIL 23.

On Tuesday last arrived the Duke of Cumberland packet boat, Capt. Goodrich, in 8 weeks and 3 days from Falmouth, but brings no intelligence from Europe, so late by a month, as we have had by the way of Boston.

Yesterday the ship America, Capt. Hervey, arrived here in 9 weeks and 4 days from Bristol, who on his passage spoke with the following vessels, viz.

On the 3d of March lat. 36 41 long. 21. 45 the ship Minerva, Capt. Gregory, 23 days out, from Virginia for Cadiz; the 24th lat. 29. 23 long. 53. 30 the brig Swift, Capt. Scott, 13 days out, from the Granadaes for Liverpool; the 25th lat 27 28 long. 55, the brig ——— Capt. Joseph Hudson, 18 days out, from Boston for Dominico; April 6th, lat. 21. 50 long. 51 the ship Johanna, Capt. John M'Coun, 8 weeks and 4 days out, from Glasgow for Virginia; and the 9th lat. 22. 34 long. 64, 33 the ship Charming Sally, Capt. John Besnard, 7 weeks and 4 days out, from Cork for Charles Town. The ships York, Grace and Ellin, of this place, were arrived at Bristol; the ship Levant, Capt. Parsons, was to sail in 10 days for this place after Capt. Hervey.

The same day the brig Sally, Capt. Schermerhorn, arrived in 9 days from South-Carolina; with whom came passenger lieut. Varraw, of his majesty's 10th regiment of foot.

Philadelphia, March 12th, 1772.

The AUTHOR OF THE COMPLETE SURVEYOR, TO THE PUBLIC IN GENERAL, AND TO THE SUBSCRIBERS IN PARTICULAR.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

PERMIT me to return you my most sincere thanks, for the honour you have done me, in promoting and encouraging my intended publication on Surveying; but, give me leave at the same time to inform you, that, though I was in great hopes of being able to have sent it to the press before this time; yet on enquiring into the number of Subscribers in the country, I find that (notwithstanding I have received upwards of two hundred myself, besides what have been received by others) the number in the whole falls considerably short of my expectations.

As this work will be large, and the expence of printing it considerably greater than would be defrayed by the present number of subscribers, I have been advised to delay the printing of it a little longer than I intended, fearing I might perhaps be a loser, by proceeding too hastily.

The present deficiency in the number of subscribers, I look upon, as owing rather to my being unknown, than to the want of a spirit of encouragement in the public; but, as my Manuscript Copy has met with the approbation of some of the best judges of the matter in America, viz. the Earl of Stirling, Mr. Colden, Mr. Rittenhouse, and Mr. Lukens, I hope all objections arising from my name not being yet sufficiently known, may be hereafter laid aside, and that the public will be pleased speedily to encourage a work of so useful a nature, and enable me to lay it before them with expedition.

His Excellency William Franklin, Esq; Governor of New-Jersey, has been pleased to favour me with a manuscript Essay on the Variation of the Needle, written by the late Mr. Lewis Evans, which will also be inserted in this work (by his Excellency's permission) a matter which the public have long wished for, and which, I hope, will be an additional inducement for many Gentlemen in America, to encourage this publication, particularly those who had the pleasure of being acquainted with that ingenious Gentleman when living.

In the mean time, I beg leave to offer my services in surveying, laying out, or dividing tracts of land; establishing the boundaries of provinces, or any other important lines, either on the common or on astronomical principles.

Those Gentlemen who will be pleased to favour me with their commands in this way, in any part of North-America, may depend on having their work performed with accuracy, and the favour gratefully acknowledged by

Their obliged and most obedient humble servant,

S. GALE.

☞ He is to be heard of by applying to Alexander Colden, Esq; Surveyor General of New-York.

RECOMMENDATIONS of the above WORK.

I Have perused several parts of Mr. Gale's Manuscript Copy, of the work he proposes to publish by Subscription on the subject of Surveying, and do believe, it will be a very useful work to most of the Surveyors in North-America, as well as others who are desirous of making themselves acquainted with both the theory and practical part of that art.

STIRLING.

New-York February 26th, 1772.

I Have perused such parts of Mr. Gale's Manuscript Copy, as relates to practical Surveying in America (which has been omitted in the former authors) and find it to be well handled, and worthy of the encouragement of the public.

ALEXANDER COLDEN,
Surveyor-General, of the Colony of New-York.

HAVING perused all the most material parts of Mr. Gale's Manuscript Copy of the Complete Surveyor, I beg leave to recommend it as a work, in my opinion, well deserving the encouragement of the public.

DAVID RITTENHOUSE.

Philadelphia, March 9th, 1772.

Philadelphia, March 10th, 1772.

I Have perused several parts of Samuel Gale's Manuscript Copy of the Complete Surveyor, and am fully convinced, that the rules therein laid down in practical surveying, and correctly calculating the areas of such surveys when made, especially that part relating to surveying our rough lands in America, may be of great advantage to those concerned in surveying, as well as others; and therefore think it deserves public encouragement.

JOHN LUKENS,
Surveyor-General of Pennsylvania.

SUBSCRIPTIONS are taken in by Messrs. Hall and Sellers, and Mr. John Dunlap, in Market-street, Messrs. Bradfords, at the London Coffee-House, and Mr. R. Bell, at the late Union-Library, Philadelphia; Mr. Matthias Slough, Lancaster; Mr. James Pollock, Carlisle; George Wood, Esq; Bedford; Mr. Joseph Pennock, East Marlborough, Chester county; Mr. Isaac Collins, Burlington; Mr. Zachariah Ressel, Mount-Holly; Mr. Hugh Gaine, Mr. John Holt, Messrs. Noel and Hazard, and Mr. James Rivington, New-York; Mr. Alexander M'Mechan, Baltimore; Mr. Richard Draper, Boston; Mr. Robert Wells, Charlestown, South Carolina; Mr. Alexander Phœnix, Savannah, in Georgia; and by all the Booksellers and Printers in America.

LONDON.

Feb. 1. The following are the different accounts given of the contents of some dispatches received on Wednesday last at St. James's from the court of Denmark.

Wednesday, just as the levee at St. James's was going to begin, an express arrived from Copenhagen, with an account that a revolution had happened there. The Queen, it seems had for some time been intriguing with her Physician. Her growing power, and flagrant conduct, occasioned a general alarm and dissatisfaction throughout the citizens of Copenhagen. They suddenly arose and surrounded the palace; and as suddenly possessed themselves of every apartment in it. The Physician was instantly put into an iron cage: The Queen was made prisoner: and the King they carried directly to the Senate, whose deliberations they were attending when the express came away. Though the King of Denmark is one of the most despotic Sovereigns in the world, yet he must submit to his people. He is now in their possession. When the express left Copenhagen, conditions to the King were preparing; which, as there is no material accusation against him, are said to be moderate. Only two of them are at present spoken of. These are, that he shall sign an instrument dissolving his marriage; and that the Queen shall be imprisoned in one of the castles for life. Upon the news of this event, the levee at St. James's was forbid

Another account says, the Nobles having the fullest information that there had been for some time past an improper connection between the Queen of Denmark, and her Physician; and having great reason to suppose from the King's late illness, that poison had been frequently administered to him by the said Physician, went in a body to the palace, and insisted upon the King's repairing immediately to the Senate to sign an order for the Queen's perpetual imprisonment, and for the immediate execution of the Physician. The King at first shed tears; but being soon convinced by the Nobles of the Queen's infidelity, repaired to the Senate with manliness and composure, and signed the order for the Queen's imprisonment for life, and for the execution of the Physician, whose head was immediately taken off. The Queen was carried to a remote part of the kingdom, and put into confinement. She demanded her children; the youngest (a girl) she was suffered to take with her, but the eldest (a boy) was refused her, and remains at Copenhagen with the King.

Feb. 27. Tuesday night an express was sent from the Admiralty to Portsmouth, for the men to work double tides, in order to get the men of war fitting out there, completed for sea, as soon as possible; the same orders were sent to Plymouth and Chatham.

SALEM, April 7.

Captain Friend, who arrived at Newbury-Port last Thursday, informs, that on the 16th of March, in Lat. 34 20. he took off the wreck brig Nancy, Capt. James Irvine, his mate and three hands, bound from Norfolk, Virginia, to Antigua. He was out five days when he met with a heavy gale, which disabled him entirely, and he lay six days on his fore castle, with no other sustenance but a piece of pork, which floated along side, and all near perishing with cold and hunger, when Capt. Friend, who behaved with the greatest humanity, saw them and took them on board. Two of the hands were drowned. All the rest are well except the mate, who was disordered in his mind when taken on board, and still continues so.

BOSTON April 9.

In Capt, Jarvis came passengers, Sir Tho. Rich, captain of the Gibraltar man of war, and several officers of the army.

Capt. Hall and Capt. Chambers, were to sail for this place all in March.—Capt. Hall in his passage hence had the misfortune to lose a lad (James Bayard, jun.) who fell overboard, and was drown'd, tho' every possible means was used to save him.

On Capt. Pierpoint's passage from Nevis, one of his hands named Daniel Collins belonging to North Carolina, fell overboard and was drowned.

Last Friday we had an uncommon snow storm for the season which again retarded the post-riders, so that they could not perform their stages regularly.—It is said the snow in many places in the country drifted from eight to 15 feet in height.—Considerable damage was done at Rhode Island to the wharves on the Narraganset side. — out of ten ferry-boats, six were drove ashore, and some lost.

Last Friday morning, in the severe snow storm we then had, Capt. Hood in a brig from London, belonging to this place, finding he was near the land, and the weather so thick that he could not discover the light house, came to an anchor off the back of Nantasket and cut away his Masts in order to preserve the vessel and cargo; but notwithstanding, she soon after drifted ashore on the beach there, and bilged; the cargo is mostly damaged, and the vessel it is tho't will be lost; one of the seamen, named Paul Yendall, of this town, perished by the severity of the weather, the others with great difficulty saved themselves—Another brig, Capt. Conner, master, from Turks Island belonging to Newbury, was also drove ashore near the same place, but it is thought may be got off again.

Sunday morning a schooner sailed from hence for Beverly, but in going thro' broad sound she struck upon the rocks call'd the Graves, by which means three men were unfortunately drowned; but the skipper and a negro fellow were taken out of her by a vessel bound in here.

The whole is in good order to enter on without any fitting or repairing, well watered, and has great conveniency to manure with sea-weed; make not the least doubt, but any person wanting such a place will be pleased with the terms having moved to Virginia, will sell it very cheap; and as I expect to return there soon, should be glad to sell it before the first of May next. For further particulars inquire of Samuel Broom, in New-York, or the subscriber on the premises.*

The neighbouring farmers generally sell wheat, one penny per bushel lower at the said mill, than at the mills nearer Delaware.—Much may be said in favour of the premises, as to the pleasant, agreeable and advantageous situation thereof in a rich and fertile Country, but an examination will be the best recommendation—The title is clear and indisputable, and time will be given for large part of the purchase money.
